IRA MIGHELL IS OUT ON BAIL

SUSPENSION OF EXECUTION OF JUDGMENT WAS SECURED
THROUGH JUDGE
CARTRIGHT.

FARRANDS DECISION IN JEOPARDY

Mighell Is Happy Man—Can Eat
Thanksgiving Dinner With His Mother—Bail
Is $5,000.

I do hereby certify that a writ of error has issued from this court for a reversal of judgment obtained by the people of the state of Illinois against Ira Mighell in the circuit court of Lee county in this state, at the November term thereof, A. D. 1911, in a certain action for murder, which said writ of error is made a supersedeas and is to operate as a suspension of the execution of the judgment, and as such is to be obeyed by all concerned.

Given under my hand and the seal of the said supreme court at Springfield, in this state, this 28th day of November, A. D. 1911.

J. MCAN DAVIS,
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

Ira Mighell, found guilty of the charge of murder by a jury in Judge Farrand's court Thursday, Oct. 26, will eat Thanksgiving dinner with his mother, who resides in Amboy, tomorrow as a result of the above order, supplemented by an order admitting him to bail, issued by the supreme court of the state of Illinois yesterday.

For, armed with the two orders, signed by J. McCan Davis, clerk of the supreme court, Mighell's attorney, J. E. Erwin, at 11:20 this morning secured his release from the county jail, and Mr. Mighell will enjoy his liberty until the next term of the circuit court, which meets in January, or until the case is tried again.

Bail Fixed at $5,000.

The order for the writ and admissibility to bail was signed by Judge Cartright at his home in Oregon, on Monday afternoon. Attorney Erwin, who had taken the record before that judge, immediately hastened to Springfield with the orders, and he obtained the writ from Mr. Davis yesterday afternoon. Justice Cartright's order was to the effect that after reading the record of the case he had reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant, and that he was also of the opinion that at the hearing of the case by the supreme court it would be remanded and reversed and that therefore he ordered the writ of error and supersedeas and the admission of the prisoner to bail.

Mighell a Happy Man.

Mighell was released from the county jail, where he has been confined since the night of June 3, the day of the unfortunate incident on the bridge, when Kincaid came to his death, at 11:20 o'clock this morning. Present in the office of the jail were Mr. Mighell's attorney, Mr. Erwin, his mother and the officials. Ira knew nothing of the success of his attorney's mission and he was overwhelmed with joy when the glad news was broken to him. He embraced his mother, grabbed both hands of his attorney and though he could not speak for joy, he showed that he was a happy man.

Has No Ill Will.

After the greeting to his mother and his attorney, during which time he had composed himself, Mr. Mighell, in answer to a Telegraph representative, expressed nothing but happiness. He said: "This is certainly going to be a fine Thanksgiving for me. I've felt right along that my innocence would be established and while things looked bad at times, I knew that I was innocent and I was sure Mr. Erwin would finally get me justice. You can say for me that I'm happy. And also that I have no ill will toward anybody. The sheriff and his assistants have treated me very kindly and I'm sure the jury must have misunderstood some things that were put before them, or they would not have returned such a verdict. I am happy now, and if you don't care, I won't talk of the matter any more. I'm not guilty and the people know it, and I'm sure the next trial will result differently. Now I want to talk with mother, and I'm going to eat dinner with her today, and tomorrow and many more days." As he walked out of the county office, he shook hands heartily with the sheriff, giving proof of his words of friendship for that official.

Erwin Is Pleased.

As a result of the orders issued by the supreme court, Mr. Erwin, Mighell's attorney, was greatly pleased today. In a short interview with this paper, he said: "I have known all along that Ira was innocent. The people of this city realized the injustice of that verdict, and I'm sure his release on bail and his subsequent acquittal, of which I am sure, will meet the approval of nearly all the people who realize the circumstance, and who have known Ira many years. I was reasonably confident the supreme court would take this action after reading the record, and I am just as sure he will get a reversal, and the case will be remanded for a new trial. That is all I care to say at present."

A Thankful Mother.

Probably the happiest person in that little office at the county jail was the little gray haired woman who has not hesitated one iota in her attention and devotion—Mighell's mother. Her joy was too intense for complete utterance, but her heart came forth with her statement: "Ira will eat dinner with me today and tomorrow and many other days. He's innocent and I know it, and I know from the expressions of kindness that have been given me that the people of Dixon like my boy, too, and they don't think he's guilty of that crime."

A Rare Case.

That any man convicted of murder by a jury should be admitted to bail, is a rare occasion in the state of Illinois. However, admission to bail, indicates that Judge Cartright, who issued the order, had reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant and also that he believed the case would be reversed at the hearing by the court in December, for the statute under which he issued the order is 463 of the Criminal Code of the state law, which reads:

When the court or judge is of the opinion that there is reasonable cause for believing that the judgment will be reversed, or that the judgment will be reversed and remanded, and the offense was one for which the party accused was entitled to bail before conviction, it shall be the duty of the court or judge to make an order to admit the prisoner to bail.

Murder Not Bailable.

Inasmuch as murder is not a bailable offense, it would indicate that Judge Cartright is of the opinion that Mr. Mighell was not guilty of murder, therefore that his crime was one for which he was entitled to bail.

The section of the law governing the issue of a writ of error is section 462, as follows:

If, after inspecting the transcript, the court or judge is of the opinion that there is reasonable cause for allowing a writ of error, and shall also be of the opinion that there is reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the defendant or that there is serious or prejudicial error in the record, it shall be granted, by endorsement on the back of the transcript, with a direction that the same shall be made a supersedeas.

Meets Popular Approval.

That Mighell's release on bail and the probability of a reversal of the case meets the approval of a majority of the people, was evidenced today by the many citizens who strove to shake Mighell's hand and express their belief in his innocence. The action of the supreme court is a popular one and there is a general belief that he will be acquitted at a future trial.

MINISTER TO CHINA ASKS FOR MARINES TO GUARD METHO-DIST MISSION.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—Special.—Minister to China W. J. Calhoun has sent a call to the U. S. government asking for marines to guard the Methodist mission at Pekin. The navy department accordingly ordered a command to proceed to his assistance at once, from Shanghai.

Conditions are critical among the Chinese and foreigners are in considerable danger.

VAN BIBBER AFTER STREET CAR COMPANY

COMMISSIONER SAYS HE WAS AN EYE WITNESS TO VIOLATION OF ORDINANCE.

IS DRAFTING NEW LAW

Will Prevent Company From Passing
Cars on Galena Avenue Bridge.

Commissioner Van Bibber is hot under the collar today and the cause of his irritation is the S. D. & E. R. R. It seems the commissioner was a personal eye witness last evening to what he claims was a rank violation of the street car company's franchise, and he is just mad enough about it today to make trouble for the above corporation.

It has been a rule laid down by this council, and by previous ones, also, that there shall be no passing of street cars on the Galena avenue bridge. The idea of this is that such action blockades traffic and is dangerous to those driving frisky colts that are afraid of the cars.

Last evening, says Commissioner Van Bibber, the company violated this ordinance, and there were three cars on the bridge at one time. The commissioner had friends with him at the time and he has eye witnesses to prove his assertion, he claims, and he intends to see if something can be done to regulate the company.

Drafts an Ordinance.

Mr. Van Bibber is having an ordinance drafted, which he will place on file immediately, that it may be ready to present to the council a week from Monday night.

The object of the ordinance is to prevent the electric railroad from allowing their cars to pass on the Galena avenue bridge.

Again God's bounteous hand has spread
The tables of the poor with bread—
Again our grateful fervent songs
Ascend to Whom all praise belongs:
Accept, O God, our thankful lay
To Thee on this Thanksgiving Day.

The husbandman has sown the seed,
And Thou didst bless his work indeed;
He trusted in Thy sacred Word,
And harvest great was his reward;
So on Thy promises we stay
On this our best Thanksgiving Day.

The cattle on a thousand hills,
The wild bird with his thrilling trills,
Fish of the sea—the lion, bear,
All yield to Thy protecting care;
May all creation own Thy sway,
Thou God of this Thanksgiving Day.

We thank Thee for the sun's bright light,
The silvery moon, the stars of night,
For water pure—for fragrant air,
And for Thy tender watchful care—
For blessings all that with us stay
On this our best Thanksgiving Day.

We thank Thee for the Gospel truth,
For blest old age—for hopeful youth,
E'en troubles great—for grief and care,
Knowing they will our souls prepare,
Straighten the path and clear the way
For God's own best Thanksgiving Day.

Great God, accept our thankful songs,
While hymns of praise swell on our tongues:
Guide Thou our feet o'er life's rough path—
Teach us in mercy, not in wrath;
Grant we may ever with Thee stay
And join in heaven's Thanksgiving Day.
—John T. Wye.

B. P. O. E. BAZAAR PLEASES ALL

LARGE CROWD KEEPS UP—SEC-OND NIGHT A WONDER—
MUCH DANCING THIS EVENING.

If every night of this week continues to be as successful as the ones past, the present Elks' bazaar at Rosbrook hall will break all records. Just as Monday night broke all records for opening night, so Tuesday night continued to establish a new mark, the attendance and receipts last night being larger than any Tuesday night of which there is any record.

In fact the attendance last night was nearly as large as on Monday night, and of course the dance floor and booths did an enormous business, the receipts being nearly as large as on Monday evening. The program last evening was well received, and heartily applauded.

Tonight should be another rousing session for the bazaar. Thanksgiving eve is always a good night for dancing and there is no doubt the attendance will be large. That the dancers may enjoy the evening to the limit, there will be no program this evening, the time being given over to Helt's orchestra, which makes its last appearance at the fair tonight. Tomorrow night Slothower's orchestra will furnish the music and will continue until the end of the week.

SCRAMBLE SUPPER AT METHODIST CHURCH

The Young Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will give a scramble supper in the church parlors Monday evening, Dec. 4. The menu as prepared indicates that there will be plenty of good things to eat and the program should prove of interest, inasmuch as it will be in charge of the men of the society, Charles Hintz being the chairman. The Y. M. C. A. chorus will sing and every member of the society should be sure to attend this function.

SHERIFF AND SER- GEANT MAKE ARREST

BRING HARRY GOOD BACK FROM GALESBURG—BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY—LARCENY.

Sheriff Reid and Police Sergeant Gaffney returned this morning from Galesburg, where they went last evening, and brought with them Harry Good, a young man taken to that city about six weeks ago charged with larceny. Good was brought back to answer the same charge and on being arraigned before Justice Hanneken, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury.

It will be remembered that after Good had been taken to Galesburg it was learned he had misappropriated articles belonging to Dixon people. Among them was a suit case belonging to Frank Burkholder, and it was on this instance that he was arrested yesterday. The Knox county officials failed to substantiate their charges against the young fellow and he had been allowed his freedom before the local officers ordered his arrest.

WOOLGAST ILL, MATCH POSTPONED

FIGHT WITH WALSH IN LOS AN-GELES OFF—APPENDICITIS STRIKES FIGHTER.

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—Special.—Ad Woolgast is seriously ill with appendicitis in a hospital here. His fight with Walsh slated for Thanksgiving day must be called off. Walsh is in good condition.

BROTHERHOOD TO ENTERTAIN.

The men of the Presbyterian Brotherhood will serve a supper at the church on Friday evening of this week. Supper to be given in honor of Dr. Cryor, who will leave for Oregon the first of the month. The Brotherhood is requested to be present and men of the congregation are cordially invited. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at that time. Supper served at 6:30, free of all charge. Come out and enjoy an evening of good fellowship.

BRIBERY CHARGE MADE BY STATE

Big Sensation Promised in Mc-Namara Trial.

PAYMENT OF $500 ALLEGED

Detectives of the Prosecution Arrest
Three on Charge of Trying to Corrupt Venireman George N. Lockwood, Prospective Juror.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 29.—Three men have been arrested on a street corner here by detectives of the state's attorney's office, headed by Samuel L. Brown, chief of investigation, and charged with attempted bribery in the McNamara murder trial.

The prisoners are:
Dert Franklin, a former United States deputy marshal, now employed by the McNamara defense in looking up the antecedents of prospective jurors.

George N. Lockwood, a venireman, summoned to appear before Judge Walter Bordwell for preliminary examination.

"Cap" White, a character of whom not much is known.

The men were taken to the office of the district attorney and then to jail. Counsel for the defense said they knew nothing of the case. The arrests were made at the intersection of Los Angeles and Third streets.

"I saw Franklin give Lockwood $500, which was on his person when arrested," said Brown.

"White had $2,500 on his person. I saw the money pass from Franklin to Lockwood. I know that it was in connection with the McNamara case."

Brown refused to say how he knew. "I don't know anything about it," said Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense.

Leconte Davis of counsel for the defense said that the former marshal had been working for his side, looking up the records of the men summoned in the venire lists.

"I am absolutely certain that there is nothing in the present charge," he said. "I have known Franklin for years and he would not do a thing of that kind."

The two attorneys were in court listening to preliminary examinations of veniremen when the arrests were made. When told of the arrests they at once left the courtroom.

"We are going to find out about this," said Darrow.

Another link in the situation developed when Clerk George Monroe of Judge Bordwell's court became authority for the statement that George N. Lockwood had not been reached with a subpoena. To this deputy sheriff said they had been advised that Lockwood had been out of the county for a year and a half.

Detective Brown indicated that he expected even more dramatic developments.

"This is not the big smash," he said. "That will come in court just a little later."

MARQUEE OF QUEENSBERRY HAS SPENT TWO MILLIONS

"Yes, I'm broke," said the Marquis of Queensberry yesterday prior to returning to Chicago, "and I've gotten my fun out of the $2,000,000 I've spent in the past ten years. I made $1,000,000 in mining and spent it all in five years, and the $1,000,000 my father left me has gone just as quickly. But I've enjoyed life and am not sorry." With these few remarks the distinguished visitor, who entertained a large audience at the Elks' fair, summed up the report that he had squandered two fortunes, and he exhibited no sorrow, either.

JURY DECIDES ACCIDENTAL DEATH

DETAILS OF HORRIBLE DEATH OF MILES CLEMENTS NEVER WILL BE KNOWN.

That Miles Clements, whose mangled body was found by the C. & N. W. tracks west of this city Tuesday morning came to an accidental death by being struck by a C. & N. W. train, was the verdict of the coroner's jury which held an inquest over the remains at the Staples undertaking rooms last night. The jury was composed of W. V. E. Steel, foreman; Harry Williams, Frank Coe, David Shank, Clark Rickard, and J. A. Chronister.

No evidence was given at the inquest to show which train struck the unfortunate man and that feature of his tragic death will always remain a mystery. The witnesses examined were Jerry Onen, car repairer at the Northwestern depot, Robert Hamilton, son in law of the victim; Joseph Lowrey, who found the body covered with snow and Mr. Peterson, section foreman, who assisted in bringing the remains to this city.

Funeral Tomorrow.
The funeral of the victim will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at Staples' undertaking rooms, Rev. F. D. Stone, pastor of the M. E. church officiating. Burial will be at Oakwood cemetery.

ENGINE EXPLODES; INJURES OPERATORS

C. & N. W. LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS
UP AT CRESTON—ENGINEER BADLY HURT.

Creston, Nov. 29.—Special.—C. & N. W. engine No. 122, while standing in the yards here awaiting orders to proceed east, without warning, exploded this morning, badly injuring Engineer James Mills and burning his fireman slightly. That the men escaped is miraculous as steel and iron were scattered over a block and windows were broken in many parts of town. Mills was taken to the hospital at Rochelle, where it is said his injuries may prove fatal.

GEOGRAPHY PRIZE
Miss Tague, south side school teacher, knows how to stimulate enthusiasm on the part of her pupils. The latest scheme was to bake a nice big pumpkin pie and bring it to school and offer it as a prize to the winner of a geography test, to be held today. Miss Iva Shepard and Master Wm. Bardwell were the highest two in the class, so the pie was divided between them, each getting a half.

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE

The same excellent bill will be shown at the theatre this evening. Cross and Gross, Gotham City Quartet, and Buster Brown and Mary Jane. The feature picture this evening is Wig-Wag, or the Boy Scout.

The Family theatre will present an exceptionally big show for the last half of the present week, commencing Thursday, and while patrons of this cozy theatre have come to the conclusion that nothing is too good for the Family, particular attention is called to the act of Berry & Wilhelm as nothing similar or as good as this act has ever been seen in a local playhouse.

Alice Berry, the diminutive comedienne, is positively a marvel and stands in a class by herself as also does Wilhelm, the impersonator of noted musicians. Another act that will be found of unusual excellence is that of Levitt and Dunsmore, as the character changes and remarkable characterizations, interpolated throughout with good comedy sketch makes this a splendid vehicle for these two talented performers. Both acts combined on one program will positively make the show worth seeing.

DIXON OPERA HOUSE

The Allen Stock company, now holding the boards at the Dixon opera house, is pleasing the patrons of the theatre. The cast is strong and the plays all new. The vaudeville features are of the best and are selected from the Orpheum and Keith and Proctor Time. Tonight they offer An Innocent Wife, a very pretty show in four acts.

CHARLES BISHOP SUBMITS TO OPERATION

Charles F. Bishop of Chicago, formerly of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop of Dixon, underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday morning last at the Dixon Hospital, and the attending physician announces his condition as favorable, although the case was a very serious one.

Mr. Bishop was taken ill at his work with the Pierce Arrow Automobile company in Chicago and upon consulting a physician Saturday at noon was told it was imperative that he be operated upon without delay. He decided that he would consult his family first and was told that he must be back and ready for the operating table by 5 o'clock that evening. Mr. Bishop decided to come to Dixon, however, and made the trip here Saturday evening. He was found to be in a very serious condition by the Dixon physicians.

DIXON BOY IN THE SEATTLE WATER FAMINE

A letter received from Howard McCleary of Seattle, Wash., states that he had eaten his dinner evenings the past week by candle light and that one has to receive a permit from the police to take a drink of water or to wash his hands and to take a bath is a crime.

DR. MAINWARING CALLED TO TWO PASTORATES

Neither of these churches have seen or heard Dr. Mainwaring, but decide to call him to the pastorate on his reputation.

LITIGATION KEEPS HER ON THE MOVE

Mrs. H. A. Narber returned yesterday to Vinton, Ia., her home. Mrs. Narber, who is a daughter of the late Mr. Albright, whose estate was in the courts so long, reports that she has made the trip from Vinton to Dixon between 40 and 50 times in her efforts to settle the estate.

PREMIER YUAN IS OPTIMISTIC

Believes Peace in China is about to Dawn.

GENERAL LI ASKS ARMISTICE

Yuan Shih Kai Says in Interview that He Finds Rebel Leader Very Willing to Work with Him Toward Limited Monarchy.

Pekin, Nov. 29.—Premier Yuan Shih Kai is in an optimistic frame of mind.

General Feng's defeat of the revolutionists at Hankow and Han-Yang and their consequent surrender of Wu-Chang has strengthened the premier's optimism and convinced him that the pacification of China is within sight. Officials here share this belief and say the rebellion will peter out in a few days and that peace will be restored except for local disorders.

Everybody, including the foreigners here, would welcome such result with delight. There would be general relief from the fears that have so long been prevalent.

It would, however, be premature to predict a speedy settlement. The result of the victory in the Yangtze northern provinces may be the dawn, but the south has not yet been heard from.

Yuan Shih Kai in an interview said General Li Yuan Hung, the rebel leader, had asked for an armistice to enable him to negotiate for peace and he (the premier) had agreed. He said he found Li Yuan Hung personally willing to co-operate with him in carrying out the premier's scheme for a limited monarchy, but the republican chieftain stipulated that all the provinces must concur in this.

AFTER HEATING TRUST

Government Will Collect Evidence in Evansville, Ind.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 29.—Special agents of the department of justice will come to Evansville in a short time, it is announced, to get evidence against the so-called heating trust. The names of three Evansville contractors and dealers in steam heating supplies and appliances are said to have been given to the federal agents as witnesses.

The government, according to the report received here, is to go after the vacuum heating companies, which are said to have co-operated in restraint of trade and in such a manner as to violate the Sherman anti-trust law.

CONFESSES SLAYING TEN

Louisiana Church Deaconess Says Victims Disobeyed Holy Orders.

Lafayette, La., Nov. 29.—Clementine Banebat, aged eighteen, negress, confessed that she killed Norbert Randall, his wife and four children Sunday night with an ax and also helped her father murder the Andrus family of four in February.

The girl is a deaconess in the Sacrifice church. She says the victims were killed because they disobeyed the orders of the church.

Looks like a "white" Thanksgiving. What?

We heard sleigh bells yesterday, and imagined we were a child again. However, we learned that the bells were on a peddler's wagon and then we knew we were a child only through kidding ourselves.

We are somewhat weak today, the result of a week's fasting getting ready for that turkey our rich relative is going to serve us tomorrow.

We advise all our readers to be sure there is a little peppermint, ginger, paragonic and Rochelle salts in the house before starting tomorrow's festivities.

One of our pastors complains that some men are pious only on Sundays. After carefully sizing up their brand of piety, we must say we're thankful they're not pious on any other day.

It's a wise man who hires a tenographer with hair the color of his wife's.

What Is An Optimist?

This question has been propounded many times. We have therefore determined to give our readers a chance to show their ideas of a true optimist. We asked a couple of our friends today and their replies are given. Have you and particular definition for this rare bird? Here are two:

H. R.—My idea of an optimist is a man who, when falling off a 14 story building, can say, when passing the fifth floor, "Well, I'm all right yet."

Constant Reader—An optimist and the champion of them all, is a man who secures a divorce from one woman to marry another.

Another Reformation.

A revolution is in bud. A terrific and awful battle is at hand. The baldheaded men are back of this revolution, and they have pledged themselves to fight to the last hair. Lead by that dean of all smooth-tops, Gen. Alfonso Simonson, these men, whom nature or women have robbed of their beautiful locks, have started a new society, which they claim will soon have every baldhead in the world as a member. The object is protection, and their platform is contained in one question: Why should a baldheaded man pay as much for a haircut as a man with a full head of wool?

WOMAN IN LONG SLEEP

Aged Des Moines Patient Has Not Awakened for Seven Days.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 29.—Mrs. L. J. Parmenter has been asleep for a week and the efforts of friends and physicians to awaken her have been unavailing. She takes nourishment from a bottle as naturally as a child, but without rousing from the seemingly natural slumber.

Mrs. Parmenter is seventy-eight years old, the mother of thirteen children and in addition to the cares of her home has been a professional nurse.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 29.—Borrowing a shotgun from a kinsman James Merritt, son of a wealthy planter, killed Adolph Layne near Walter Hill.

O turk, you who strutted the summer away.
Abundant attention you're getting today,
We praise you beyond all the bird or fowl kind;
Our feelings to you are with favor inclined.
We thanks, too, give for you, O creature of pride,
And all the fruits of the season beside.
Though slighted you were, in the days that are past,
Attention long due you are getting at last.

—Arthur J. Burdick, in Sunset Magazine.

IF YOU are grateful, say so. Thanksgiving is only half Thanksgiving till it blossoms into expression. Learn a lesson from the noble-hearted Indian, in whose village the missionary, passing through, had left a few pages of the gospel in the Indian tongue. Our Indian read and rejoiced. Measuring the missionary's footprint, he fitted it with magnificent moccasins, and traveled 200 miles to give them to the missionary as an expression of his gratitude. Thus the missionary was enriched by the present, but the Indian was enriched by the thanksgiving.

The best thanksgiving is a happy heart. Blossoms mean nothing on a dead stick. Once when the czar visited Paris the ingenious French, it being winter, fastened to the bare boughs of the trees innumerable paper flowers, very pretty as a spectacle, but very unworthy as a symbol, since they were false. Our praise will be quite valueless unless it is rooted in the daily life.

Train yourself to be grateful for the common blessings. There had been a great cotton famine in Lancashire, England. For lack of material to work upon, the mills had been idle for months, and there was great distress among the operatives. At last came the first wagon-load of cotton, verses we encounter, he enables us to overcome them. So, while the passing year has had its sorrows, we feel that the joys have outweighed them, and that we are still God's debtors in thanks for multitudinous blessings. Let us show our gratitude for all of these mercies by reaching out a helping hand to others who have been less fortunate than ourselves. Remember the poor at Thanksgiving—the sick, the destitute, the hungry, the unemployed. In every community there are those to whom a kindly word or a generous hospitality would bring a real touch of the spirit of the festival. Pass on your blessings. By so doing, you will make your own heart the lighter, your own home the brighter and your own Thanksgiving table more enjoyable to all who sit around it.

Thank Him for All.

"Giving thanks for all things unto God."—Eph. v. 20.

Thanksgiving is the mark of a truly religious man. If we are always begging God for his mercies without expressing to him our sincere gratitude, we become selfish in our demands. God delights to impart his mercies to us, but he also takes pleasure in our gratitude to him for his benefits. Only an appreciative heart is able to fully enjoy God's unfailing goodness. It is certain that the more we try to praise, the more we will see how our path and our daily way are beset with mercies, and that the God of love is ever watching to do us good.

Thanksgiving

"For the sunshine and the rain,
For the dew and for the shower,
For the yellow, ripened grain,
And the golden harvest hour,
We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"For the heat and the shade,
For the gladness and the grief,
For the tender, sprouting blade,
And for the nodding sheaf,
We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"For the hope and for the fear,
For the storm and for the peace,
For the trembling and the cheer,
And for the glad increase,
We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"Our hands have tilled the sod,
And the torpid seed have sown;
But the quickening was of God,
And the praise be His alone,
We bless Thee, oh, our God!"

Winnie's Thanksgiving
By Donald Allen

IF I was a girl, I wouldn't go walking too far," said old Uncle Robert, as a girl of twenty passed him on her way down to the gate of the farm house.

"And why not?" she asked, as she almost came to a pause.

"Well, according to my idea, it's going to rain and snow and blow and hail, and when the storm does break, she's going to be a buster."

"I wanted to go to the postoffice to mail a letter."

"It's three miles there and back, and if I was you I'd put it off. Maybe somebody'll be passing that you can send by. Tomorrow's Thanksgiving, you know, and we are going to have the awfulest, biggest, nicest dinner anybody ever sat down to. It's in your honor, you know. There'll be a turkey, a duck and a chicken; there'll be cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie, currant jelly, sweet cider and apple dumplings; there'll be—"

"I think I'll just walk a little ways, anyhow," said the girl, as she opened the gate and passed down the highway toward the village and the railroad depot.

"And if you come home as wet as a hen don't say I didn't warn ye. It's going to come, and it's going to be a buster."

Half an hour later a middle-aged woman with a motherly face and voice came out on the steps and asked:

"Pa, do you reckon it's goin' to storm?"

"Sure as ducks,"

"Where's Minnie?"

"O, she's gone for a santer. I give her warning. What's she wantin' to mail a letter for? I hain't mailed a letter nor got one in twenty years, and I guess I'm about as well off as must folks. I was going to ask her but forgot it."

"Don't you ask her a word about it," cautioned the wife as she came down to him. "I guess Minnie's got something on her mind, but it hain't none o' your business."

"Something on her mind, eh? That's funny. Didn't know that girls ever had anything on their minds except new clothes. Is that why she come visitin' us all of a sudden?"

"None o' your business! I guess my own sister's daughter can come and see me any time she takes a notion, and that without writing ahead. What's on her mind, as high as I can make out, is about a young man. They're engaged, and they've had a falling out, and she's sorter run away from him to find out if he really cares for her."

"And she's got scared about it and has written him a letter to tell where she is?" queried the husband.

"Go on! It's probably a letter to her ma, though I didn't see it nor ask. I hope she didn't start for town. It's going to storm for sure, and there hain't but one house on the road where she could find shelter. Look down the road and see if you can see her."

"Can't see hide nor hair of any girl," reported Uncle Robert after going out to the highway and taking a long look.

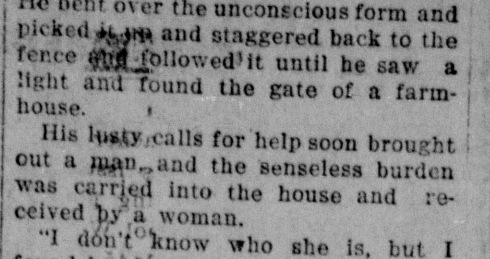

An hour later, with both uncle and aunt fidgeting about their girl visitor, the gray afternoon had become twilight. In 15 minutes there was cold rain and lively hail, and Uncle Robert was blown into the kitchen.

Miss Minnie had reached town and mailed her letter and started back again when the storm broke. Before it came she thought she could make out a human figure on the road ahead of her, but wasn't sure.

The very first gust picked her up and turned her around and deposited her under a roadside tree. She remained there until the gale began to whip the branches off, and then let go her hold and ran for it.

She hadn't gone a quarter of a mile when, as she crouched and covered her face, she was struck by a falling limb and knew no more.

Relieves Backache Instantly

Sloan's Liniment is a great remedy for backache. It penetrates and relieves the pain instantly—no rubbing necessary—just lay it on lightly.

Here's Proof.

"I had my back hurt in the rain and in the sun for weeks. I was hit by a street car in the rain and I tried all kinds of dope without any good. Two weeks ago I saw your advertisement in a drug store and got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. The first application caused instant relief, and now except for a little stiffness, I am almost well!"

Thanksgiving
A DUTY AND A GRACE

"And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body and be ye thankful."—Col. 3: 15.

Be ye thankful!" said an inspired apostle, writing to a company of early Christians, who even in stormy times of possible or actual persecution were exhorted to be of good cheer and to "count up their mercies." Paul's words are not only hortatory, but also mandatory. It is the duty of the Christian, amid all vicissitudes, to be thankful. A believer is never justified in forgetting God's benefits to him. He is expected to figure out every now and then the sum of the divine favors that have been shown to him, or what might be called the statistics of salvation. It is true that divine mercies have been innumerable, and cannot be tabulated with anything like completeness; yet the Christian believer is exhorted to dwell upon these mercies in thought and to render vivid to his mind, by frequent reflection, so many of the visitations of divine favor as he can discern providentially unfolded in his past life.

There is, then, a duty of thanksgiving. Praise is the expected thing, gratitude is demanded. God is disappointed, and even angered, when men receive his gifts without returning thanks. The Lord is gracious, but that is no reason why the children of men should be ungraciously thankless. Thanksgiving is a part of the code of duty of a Christian. It is an integral portion of the decalogue of moral action. It is not a kind of extra service, or superfluous activity added on to the body of duty otherwise complete, but is of the warp and woof of the Christian's obligation. "Be thankful" was not the idle, chance remark of a sentimental apostle, but is the New Testament interpretation of the Old Testament burden of blessing.

But if thankfulness is a duty, it is none the less on that account a grace. If it is not optional, it may certainly be ornamental. The fact that a thing or a trait is demanded by the moral law does not render the sacrifice of that thing or the exhibition of that trait any the less noble or lovely. The grace of gratitude in particular is a peculiarly lovely virtue. There is even, we may say, an aesthetic quality to thankfulness. "Praise is comely for the upright," said the Psalmist, who was an authority on the beauty of holiness. Even the world appreciates the aesthetic value of gratitude—as well as its earning power, acquisitive of future favors, as a practical asset of life—and poets in all ages have sung of the charm of a grateful spirit, the nobility of a responsive nature. Even the birds look up when they drink, as if in mute recognition of the heavenly source of the bits of blessing which fall to them, and certainly man, much more richly endowed and blessed, should do at least as much, and express his "Thank you!" both by the testimony of the lips and the generous actions of the life.

Thanksgiving day is a proper and convenient occasion for considering both the duty and the grace of gratitude to the great Giver of all good. But Thanksgiving day is not simply for the abstract discussion of general ideas present in thought or stirring the emotions. This day does—or should—have a direct governing relation to the ministries of the hand and the unfolding of the wallet. When it is celebrated in the spirit of the scriptural exhortation to thankfulness, it becomes a time of rejoicing in the truest, fullest sense, because it joins praise to God with practical ministry to the poor and unfortunate. Thanksgiving should issue in thanksgiving. Praise should become a practice. Gratitude must become a temper and tendency of the life. So will God be glorified and gratified, and men, by their cordial and constant recognition of his goodness, be lifted in the scale of being and be the better fitted to receive from heaven more favors still.—Rev. C. A. S. Dwight.

For These Things We Give Thanks. Thanksgiving day we should all be able to give thanks to our patrons for these things:

For a clean name, unsullied by questionable transactions, honorable in human relations.

For an untainted birth, with such health as purity transmits, and for the brooding tenderness that guarded and cherished us before birth and made careful preparation for our coming.

For wholesome food, sufficient clothing, and comfortable shelter until our coming of age, or during the lifetime of our parents.

For education, according to the best standards of which they knew suited to our individual needs and possibilities, and preparing us to earn our own livings.

For such knowledge of our bodies and minds, and such reverence for them as makes intemperance impossible.

Forget Not His Benefits.

Why not rejoice more? Count up your golden mercies; count up your opportunities to do good; count up your "exceeding great and precious promises;" count up your joys of heirship to an incorruptible inheritance, and then march on the road heavenward. "Forget not all his benefits." "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless his holy name," is the declaration of an appreciative heart.—Theodore L. Cuyler, D.D.

Washington's Proclamation.

The first Thanksgiving day proclamation ever issued by a president was signed by George Washington in 1789. The original is said to be in the possession of Rev. J. W. Wellman, who inherited it from his grandfather, William Ripley of Cornish, N.H. This proclamation was issued by request of both houses of congress through their joint committee.

Freeport, Nov. 29.—Because, it is alleged, negroes tried to start trouble at the Superba theatre Saturday night, a sign now appears over the ticket window which reads as follows:

"We do not desire colored patronage."

There is a similar sign over the ticket window at the Bijou theatre. Sunday night Chief of Police Root watched at the moving picture theatres, fearing trouble from the colored folks. It is understood that another picture theatre will put up a sign today with these words:

"We do not want colored patronage."

The trouble originated Saturday evening when during the rush of the picture houses two negroes appeared at the ticket office of the Superba to purchase tickets. At that time the Superba was filled to capacity, people were standing as far back as the doors. Manager Martin Walker did not want any more people in the theatre. He called to the young woman selling tickets and told her not to sell tickets to negroes. She obeyed orders, but despite this the two negroes started to walk into the theatre.

Manager Walker pushed one of the negroes and at that the colored man became angry. "You hadn't better start anything with me!" said the negro. Manager Walker was not frightened at the remark but told the negroes they did not have tickets. They returned to the window, and demanded tickets, which were given them.

One of the local theatre proprietors says the colored people cannot be barred unless the price of admission is raised so high they will not pay it.

Although it is doubtful if an attempt would be made to eject a negro if he tried to enter any of the theatres the play house owners have made it plain to the darkies that their patronage is not wanted.

To Reserve Special Seats.

It is likely the moving picture theatres will have a row of seats, either in the front or rear of the theatres, reserved especially for colored people. All of the proprietors agree that as a rule colored patrons cause no trouble. The two negroes who caused the trouble Saturday night were strangers.

HUBBARD BORN
IN ILLINOISLECTURER TO BE HERE TELLS OF EARLY HISTORY—HIS START IN LIFE.

As Elbert Hubbard will give a lecture in Dixon Monday under the auspices of the Elks, it is not out of place to print the following taken from the Philistine of 1902—a bit of which will be published each day in the Telegraph.

"Concerning my own personal history, I'll not tarry long to tell. It has been too much like the career of many another born in the semipioneer times of the middle west to attract much attention, unless one should go in the psychology of the thing with intent to show the evolution of a soul. But that will require a book—and some day I'll write it after the manner of St. Augustine or Jean Jacques Rousseau.

But just now I'll only say that I was born in Illinois forty-five years ago. My father was a country doctor, whose income never exceeded five hundred dollars a year. I left school at fifteen, with a fair hold on the three R's, and beyond this my education in "manual training" had been good. I knew all the forest trees, all wild animals thereabout, every kind of fish, frog, fowl or bird that swam, ran or flew. I knew every kind of grain or vegetable, and its comparative value. I know the different breeds of cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

I could teach wild cows to stand while being milked, break orses to saddle or harness; could sow, plow and reap; knew the mysteries of apple butter, pumpkin pie, pickled beef, smoked side meat, and could make lye at a leach and formulate soft soap.

FOOTBALL GAME AT PARK TOMORROWGOOD CONTEST TO BE PULLED OFF—DIXON COLLEGE TO PLAY FAST CHICAGO
ELEVEN.

The Dixon football fans owe it to the Dixon college and the young men on the football team of that institution to attend the game at Athletic park tomorrow afternoon, between the local team and the Chicago Veterinary college, one of the fast teams of the smaller schools in Chicago. The Dixon team has been a good one this year, they have done much to advertise the college and the city and the players and college should be encouraged by a big attendance of the citizens.

The players on the Dixon team are in the pink of condition and in the signal practices which have been held this week they have developed speed which criterions a victory in tomorrow's game. None of the boys have been overtrained, and as a result the team will go into tomorrow's game in fine shape.

The Dixon college football squad went through their final practice of the year this afternoon in preparation for the final contest, tomorrow. A fast signal drill of nearly two hours took place today and the players went to their dressing rooms full of confidence.

Every man in the Black and Gold eleven is in the best of condition, which has not been the case in any previous game this season, with the exception of the DePaul game.

The teams to clash tomorrow are evenly matched as to weight, both going close to 170 pounds, with Dixon having a fraction advantage to the man. The "Vets" will be heavier in the line, having a little on Dixon there, but the local back field will weigh in at 175 pounds and will be fully as fast as anything the Chicago team can produce. The teams are bound to put up a game worth seeing, though to look the local dope sheet over the Dixon college should win by at least 20 points.

In Potham and Krum the locals have a good pair of ends. They are speedy and clever and will handle the forward pass in fine shape. Muhlenberg and Kemper will handle the tackle positions, with Byerhof and Trouth starting at guards. Hogan, the giant Irish cyclone, at center, makes the line complete.

"HAITCHY" REDUCES TURKEY

Turkey went up in the air Tuesday afternoon again, but H. McCarroll proved to be the "trust buster" for Haitchy is the boy who got turkey down again. A large hen fowl got away from Donovan's meat market early in the afternoon and soon perched herself on the telephone cables in front of the opera house. Several people looking to "save a dollar" were going to shoot the bird, but when informed that a fine of $25 could be assessed for shooting firearms in the city limits, they promptly changed their minds. However Haitchy said he would get that turkey, and he did. First he climbed the telephone pole to get that Thanksgiving dinner, but the said dinner crawled out farther on the wires, and the persistent efforts of the hunter failed to shake him off. But a boy's air rifle came in very handy and said turkey was forced to flee or fly for safety. Mr. McCarroll pursued her, like a villain, and his efforts were rewarded. He got the turkey. After some argument he returned her to Mr. Donovan and in exchange got a nice "T" steak.

THEIR RAIDS ELKS BAZAAR

MISCREANT RISKS LIBERTY TO GET SOME OF GOOD THINGS
ON SALE AT THE ROS-
BROOK HALL.

Many boxes of candy and cigars were stolen from Rosbrook hall last night between 1 o'clock and morning by some miscreant whom it would be a pleasure for the Elks to give some initiatory work not found in any ritual. The plunder was the stock in trade at the booths being conducted at the fair, and while the loss is not great in a monetary sense, the littleness of the perpetrator arouses the ire of every Elk and every citizen. The thief gained entrance by pulling the big staple in the outside hall door, which opens on Peoria avenue.

ANTICIPATE BIG CROWD AT DANCE

The indications are for a large attendance at the dance, to be given in Armory hall tomorrow night by the United Spanish War Veterans, and there is absolutely no reason why the affair should not be a rousing success. The dance floor has been put in excellent condition, the hall has been cleaned to spick and span, and every thing possible has been done to make the guests enjoy themselves. Music for the dance will be furnished by Heft's orchestra and a prize waltz will also be a feature. The first prize will be a gentleman's umbrella and the second a lady's hand bag. A very large number of tickets have been sold in advance and as a result the younger veterans anticipate a pleasant evening.

BIG TURKEY AT ELKS' FAIR TONIGHT

As an additional attraction for the poultry booth at the Elks fair tonight the committee has secured a 30-pound turkey, the largest dressed in Dixon this year, which will be sold to some lucky person.

UNION SERVICE.

The union Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Elwood Fisher.

WARREN-DETROIT SELF STARTER, OF COURSE

The demand for WARREN-DETROIT up-to-date cars, with full equipment, exceeds anything on the market. Substantial growth can only be based upon the "MAKE-GOOD" quality.

WARREN CARS HAVE MADE GOOD. They are giving that steady consistent service that is the strongest assurance of a continuing demand. We rest our case on the splendid reputation that WARREN CARS have already established—on the undeniably high quality of construction—which only follows in logical sequence when the design is correct, the materials of proper quality, the workmanship high grade and the inspection system competent and thorough.

EACH CAR BACKED BY WARREN SERVICE.

This car is a model of value; plenty of power, roomy, natty in appearance and comfortable riding, upholstered deep and luxurious.

Self-starter "of course" eliminates the last objection to a gasoline car. Absolutely does away with cranking. Warren-Detroit's outstrip every other car at the price.

It can be compared with cars selling for $300 or $400 more. The real feature of the Warren car is not its price but its "quality for the price." Call or write for our literature on Warren cars.

STATE'S TAX VALUE RAISED

Total of $2,100,715,118 Given in Report of Illinois Board of Equalization.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—The equalized assessed value of personal property, lands and lots, and also the railroad property that is required to be assessed by local assessors, as determined by the state board of equalization, is $2,100,715,118. This is an increase over the assessment of 1910 of $1,100,607,402.

The classification of the total assessment is as follows: Personal property, $462,719,174; lands, $688,997,899; lots, $941,016,132; railroad personal property, $2,583,694; railroad lands, $824,626; railroad lots, $4,574,732.

The state board reduced the assessment as made by local authorities over $4,000,000. The board expects to make final reports and adjourn. The assessment of railroad property and the capital stock of franchise corporations is yet to be determined.

STATE EDITORS BACK TAFT

Republican Association's Resolutions Are Silent as to Governor.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—The Illinois Republican Editorial association adopted resolutions "approving the candidacy of President Taft for re-nomination and endorsing his administration," but containing no expression of preference on the Illinois governorship. Regarding the tariff the resolutions say:

"We adhere to the Republican policy of protection, and favor a scientific revision of the tariff which contemplates the maintenance of the American rate of wages and the American standard of living."

A copy of the resolutions was ordered sent to President Taft.

The resolutions also denounce the initiative and referendum and the recall as "socialistic doctrines" and destructive of republican government.

U. S. Judges Issue Temporary Order for Wabash, Chester & Western.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—Judge Arthur L. Sanborn of Minneapolis, Francis E. Baker of Indianapolis and J. O. Humphrey of this city, sitting in the United States circuit court, issued a temporary injunction on the petition of the Wabash, Chester and Western Railroad company restraining Attorney General Stead and the state's attorneys of the counties through which the road passes from enforcing the provisions of the 2-cent passenger rate law, which petitioner asserts is confiscatory as regards itself.

The matter will be referred to Master in Chancery Walter McCallan Allen to take testimony and to report to the court.

Kalamazoo Welcomes Trainload of Western Executives.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 29.—"We're making history for the United States." Arriving in Kalamazoo, after the second lap of their trip from St. Paul, Minn., through the middle west and east, eight governors, one lieutenant governor and other official representatives of western states referred to the purpose of their journey and the results they hope to bring about.

The train bearing the western party on its mission into the east is one of the most elaborately equipped private trains seen in Kalamazoo. There are eleven cars, including observation, dining, writing, sleeping and smoking cars. Every comfort and convenience known to modern travel is there. The train was furnished by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway.

In the party are Governors A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota, John Burke of North Dakota, R. S. Vessey of South Dakota, Edwin L. Norris of Montana, Oswald West of Oregon, James H. Hawley of Idaho and J. M. Carey of Wyoming, and Lieutenant Governor J. H. Fitzgerald of Colorado, J. E. Barnes secretary of the Southwestern Washington Development league, representing Washington, and Colvin B. Brown, director general of the Panama-Pacific international exposition, representing California. Governor T. L. Odde of Nevada joined the party in Chicago.

The intention of the Russian government is understood to be that it will demand the dismissal of Mr. Shuster.

An indemnity also will be demanded of Persia to recoup the cost of Russia's dispatch of troops to Persia. The troops will remain where they are unless it becomes necessary for them to advance so as to enforce Russia's will.

My Message to Men

I will cure you in the shortest possible time at the least possible cost of the service of a specialist. Consult me free before placing your case.

I ACCEPT ONLY CURABLE CASES AND GUARANTEE EVERY CASE I ACCEPT.

I want to talk to every sufferer from BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES: NERVO-VITAL DEBILITY, STRICTURE AND PROSTATIC DISEASE; VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, PILES, KIDNEY, BLAUDER AND GOUT DIS EASES PECULIAR TO MEN. The fact that you have treated elsewhere with out benefit and are skeptical does not discourage me in the least. Nearly every patient tells of the same experience. I am curing these men every ally and feel sure I can do the same for you. I especially solicit these stubborn, chronic, seemingly incurable cases. Men who realize the seriousness and gravity of their condition and will appreciate benefits to be derived and the lasting cure I give, come to me for free consultation. I will then explain how different, better and more curative are my methods and treatment than those possessed by others. My special training and experience in treating all chronic, Nervous, Blood and Special Diseases and Weakness of Men, give me many advantages over the ordinary physician. If afflicted it is well worth your while to come hundreds of miles to consult me, rather than subject yourself to dangerous experimental treatment.

Many men come to me and not one has ever had cause to regret. My sympathy is enlisted with every patient. The curing and building up of weak broken-down men is my work. The welfare and cure of my patient is my only thought. My financial condition makes the fee secondary consideration. In this I differ widely from the doctor who thinks only of his fee and cares nothing for the suffering of his fellowmen. Investigate before treating elsewhere; it may save many years of suffering and the means of changing your whole future.

Are You a Wreck or a Man?

Come to Me and I Will Cure You.

GUARANTEES CURES—Many patients have told me after I have cured them, that they hesitated at first to come account of never having received relief elsewhere, and that they had almost become so skeptical as to think there was no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat just such men, and it makes no difference about the financial

WHY SO WEAK?

KIDNEY TROUBLES MAY BE SAVING YOUR LIFE AWAY. DIXON PEOPLE HAVE LEARNED THIS FACT

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills make sick kidneys well. Here is Dixon testimony to prove it.

Mrs. William Toot, 512 W. Second St., Dixon, Ill., says: "I suffered for years from kidney complaint and my back ached persistently. I was so weak at times that I could not attend to my housework and nothing did me any good. Finally, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug store, and they cured me. I feel that my experience should convince the most skeptical person of the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. I know of a number of other people who have taken this remedy with great benefit" (Statement given February 5, 1907.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT
Mrs. Toot was interviewed on January 5, 1910, and she added to the above: "I have no hesitation in verifying my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. During the time that has elapsed, I have taken this remedy occasionally and it has always brought prompt and effective relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Married Life Second Year

"BUT, WARREN, IT will all have to be papered and painted. I don't see how we can get in by the first."

"Why not? They can do over that place in three or four days."

"But can we get any one now to move us?" Helen stooped over for the spool of thread that had slipped from her lap. "All the wagons are engaged weeks ahead for the 1st of October."

"Leave that to me. I'll get the wagons. All you've got to do is to pack."

"But, dear, this apartment isn't rented yet—wouldn't they let us stay here until the 15th? That would give us so much more time."

"And pay rent in both places? Well, I guess not."

Helen dropped her sewing and came over and rested her cheek against his. "You haven't signed the lease yet?"

"Well, what of it?"

"Don't sign it, dear. Let's not take that apartment. I don't think we'll be happy there?"

"Why not?"

"Oh, you know I don't like it—the location—the whole atmosphere of the building."

"Now look here, we thrashed all that out last week—and we're not going to let it again. By gad, you're a persistent woman!"

"Nothing's ever settled with you. You're eternally harking back to the same thing. Now, I'm going to sign that lease tomorrow, and we're going to move in on the first. Is that plain?"

Helen flushed. "Warren, do you realize how much this means to me? I'm in the apartment all day—you're there only in the evening. Shouldn't my wishes have some weight?"

"Oh, that's your tone is it? You're trying to make out that I'm forcing you into this? Didn't I tell you all Summer to look around—to find some apartment where we wouldn't be shut up against a brick wall as we are here? And you said you couldn't find anything—wasn't that it?"

"I said I couldn't find anything as good as this for what we're paying here."

"Well, I did find something. You were obstinately determined to stay here, and that was your method of working it—only it didn't happen to work."

"Oh, Warren, I didn't try to work anything—you know that's not like me."

"I'm not so darned sure about that." "Of course I wanted to stay here. I told you that all along. You know how we looked at apartments before we came back, and I couldn't find anything to compare to this."

"Well, I found six good size rooms, with plenty of air and light, in a brand new apartment, and not a cent more than we're paying now."

"Oh! but the neighborhood! Dear, there's garage and a Chinese laundry right across the street, and all the rest of the block is—"

"But we're not living across the street nor on the west of the block, either. We'll be comfortable in that apartment—and that's all I'm aiming at. If you've aspirations for a fashionable address—you've married the wrong man to gratify them."

"Oh, Warren, how unjust! You know I'm not thinking of a fashionable address. But I didn't want to be in a street over-run with dirty children. And it's not only the street—it's the whole atmosphere of the building. Dear, I know we won't be happy there."

"Well, we haven't been so infernally happy here—have we?"

"No, perhaps not," in a low voice "though it hasn't been the fault of the apartment."

With an oath Warren rose and flung his paper to the floor.

He was not going to discuss this. "Well, I mean just what I said. Now," emphasizing each word with a vigorous thump on the table. "We're going into that apartment the first of October. You had your chance to find something and didn't do it. So now we're going to take this, and we're not going to talk any more about it. Do you hear?"

He went out slamming the door after him.

Helen heard him getting his hat and coat in the hall, and then came the bang of the outside door. For several moments she sat motionless where he had left her. Then she went over to the window.

Warren was standing on the corner waiting for a car. The street lamp lit up his face, and even from that distance she could see the grim set lines of his mouth. The car came clanging by and he swung on the back seat before it stopped.

She knew he was going to the club and would probably not be back until late. But somehow tonight she didn't care. She was filled with a sense of bitter injustice. It was not often that she felt so strongly about anything as she did about this apartment.

When the Insane Will be Cured By Mental Science

THE CHICAGO EXAMINER recently contained the following concerning a large sanitarium for the insane in an Illinois town:

"At this institution, one of the largest of its kind in the United States the application of a mental science cure for insanity, known as psychotherapy, is soon to be begun."

"The step is distinctly one forward and is one that will be looked upon with interest by psychologists all over the world."

"Upon recommendation of the superintendent of the Board of County Commissioners of the little town, Mr. C. J. New Albany, Ind., was commissioned to make experiments on insane patients with his new mental science method of cure."

"Mr. C. J. is to have a three months' trial and will serve without pay for that time. Should his experiments prove all that is expected he will probably be permanently employed by Cook county."

Recently the specialist mentioned sent me a letter which is, in part, appended. He experimented with twenty-six cases and nineteen responded. Here is what he says of his convictions that insanity can be cured by mental methods:

"What I formerly advocated with doubt I now proclaim with confidence—that insanity is curable and that it will be by curative mental science."

"Twelve years of data and experimenting, with a complete record of all cases treated, should make it possible for me to teach the science to others."

"Physical pains can be removed by mental means, therefore a perverted or disturbed physical condition

TAFT'S MESSAGE IS ABOUT TRUSTS

Devoted Almost Exclusively to One Question.

OTHER MESSAGES TO FOLLOW

President Will Urge Strongly the Enactment of Federal Incorporation
Law—Tariff Message Comes
After Tariff Board Reports.

Washington, Nov. 29.—His annual message to congress has been finished by President Taft.

The message is only 5,000 words long and deals almost exclusively with the trust question. The usual routine report upon the work of the several executive departments has been entirely eliminated and no mention will be made of the many other legislative policies of the administration beyond brief general references. Special messages will be sent to congress later covering the other subjects.

The president has finally discarded the idea of recommending supplementary legislation to the Sherman antitrust law for adoption by congress in the event that the national legislature fails to enact a federal incorporation law. The president will strongly urge the enactment of a federal incorporation law.

The limiting of the president's opening message to the trust question indicates that the president intends to make that one of the leading issues of the approaching session of congress.
As to the tariff, the president will forward to congress the report of the tariff board, which he expects to receive a few days after the opening of the session and will submit recommendations for a revision of the tariff in accordance with the findings of the board. It is known that the board will recommend substantial reductions.
Notwithstanding the importance of the tariff issue, the president will devote an equal amount of effort to the trust question. It is predicted by some that Mr. Taft will put his trust legislation at the head of his legislative program for the session.

The special message on the tariff will be the first to follow the trust law message. Then will come other messages dealing with the railroad securities question, the Alaskan situation, the report of the postoffice commission on the second class mail rate and the parcels post, then a message dealing generally with the work of the executive departments.

This plan of piece meal messages is designed, of course, to secure wider publicity and a more thorough public consideration of what the president regards as important issues of the day.

RILEY WILL WRITE NO MORE

Right Hand of Hoosier Poet Not Capable of Holding Pen.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—James Whitcomb Riley, generally regarded as the greatest living American poet, says that he has written his last poem. The paralytic stroke which has kept Mr.
Riley in bed a great portion of the time and practically an invalid for two years, has reached his right hand, which is now completely helpless.

When asked by friends to write a little message in the form of a poem to the public as Christmas approaches, he sadly looked at his withered right hand and said: "No more writing for me, the public will have to do without."

BIG WAVE SWEEPS SHIP

Four Seamen Are Carried Overboard
to Death in Ocean.

New York, Nov. 29.—Captain Pavey of the Fabre liner Santa Anna, which arrived from Marseilles and Naples, told of a wave 100 feet high which his ship encountered last Thursday.
The great mass of water rose before the ship like a wall and swept it clean of everything portable on deck.
Four seamen, Durand, Sarti, Calati and Quarrelli, were carried overboard and three others were stretched on the deck.

JURY HAS PATTERSON CASE

Prosecution Offers Rebuttal Testimony and Pleas of Counsel Are Made.

Denver, Nov. 29.—The case of Mrs.
Gertrude Patterson is in the hands of the jury. Some rebuttal testimony was offered by the prosecution and Prosecutor Benson then made his opening argument.

He was followed by Judge O. N.
Hilton, Mrs. Patterson's counsel, who occupied the afternoon and part of the evening session.

Mann Predicts Scant Results.

Washington, Nov. 29.—"This will be a do-nothing session of congress," declared Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, the minority leader of the house, who arrived in Washington to prepare for the resistance of legislation planned by the Democratic majority.

Why pay $100 for irrigated land when $50 or $60 will buy just as good as the best? It is a difference in a saving to the buyer. We guarantee to show where from four to seven hundred dollars per acre can be raised per year. Special trip for Dec. 5th.
